Meet our new artists!

Neva Rowland!

While I'm a musician by training, I love any activity where I can stretch my creative muscles. As a child, I watched all the drawing and painting shows I could get my hands on, but as an adult, I slowly lost the time to create. In February 2021, I decided to relearn and teach myself - beginning with traditional pencil and paper, and eventually buying an iPad and beginning digital art. Now I create fluid art, jewelry, and accessories, and offer intuitive art commissions.

Join Neva in her first workshop at ArtForms Gallery. See the details under the Workshop section!

Kathy Mustain

Full-time nurse, wife, mother of 3 adult sons and a grandmother. I have worked for St. John's/Mercy—Joplin, since 1986. (Do the math!) I am a former adjunct nursing clinical instructor for NEO A&M. My interest with anatomy and physiology feeds into awe with the beautiful care my Creator puts into nature ... from the cellular level to the vastness of the universe.

I'm currently playing with several different mediums. I've been doing stained glass, both 2D and 3D creations, as well as applying the copper foil techniques with jewelry creations. Playing with copper has led me to some applications of copper combining wood and stained glass furnishings. The wood I use comes from trees on the family farm. I love the look of live-edge wood. Somehow curiosity about wet felting piqued my interest a few years back, and I have grown to appreciate how it can be beautiful art as well as useful. This has led to making felted bags, scarves, shoes, and a few journal covers. I use natural colored wool as well as some dyed wool. I have experimented with using alpaca fleece also. Recently, I have dug my paint brushes out of the closet and dusted off a few decades of dust. Watercolor, pencil, and ink, etc. are coming back too into this season of life.

Each season is a beautiful gift to be treasured and I am blessed.

Fused Glass Workshops Return!!

Fused Glass Pocket Vases and Nightlights     Artist: Dianne Miller

Two projects = twice the fun!

Pocket Vase: Decorate a pre-fused glass pocket vase with other glass embellishments of your choice. These sweet pocket vases will be finished after fusing with a copper wire to hang on a wall or window. You can fill it with real flowers (as the vase holds water), a small succulent, or silk flowers.

Nightlight: Decorate a fusible glass base with your own creative design. Basic glass-cutting skills will be demonstrated during the workshop, so prior glass experience is not necessary. After fusing, your glass will be mounted to a nightlight fixture and ready to light your way during the night!

Both projects will make great gifts for the coming holiday season, so plan now to attend!

Date:            Saturday, July 29    |    1:00 - 3:00 p.m.

Fee:             $50, due at time of registration

Ages:            12 years and older

Class Limit: 10 people

All supplies are included. Please do not wear open-toed shoes when working with glass.
